Rules Committee Nominated. The caucus nominated the rules com mittee for the next session. It con-sists of the speaker and Representa-tives Dalzell of Pennsylvania and Smith of Iowa, and two democrats, to be named by Representative Champ Clark, the minority leader. The present efficers of the house were sominated. They are Alexander McDowell, clerk; Frank B. Lyon, doorkeeper, and Henry Casson, sergeant at arms. Samuel A. Langune was also renominated for postmaster, and Rev. Henry N. Cou-den, the blind minister, for chaplain.

Cannon's Lieutenant Not Certain of Victory. Six "insurgents" were present at the meeting, and although they did not admit afterwards that they would vote with the organization, it is known that Speaker Cannon counts on their sup-port, both for the rules and himself. These men were Representatives Steen-erson. Pearre, Goode, Pickett, Woods and Kendall. Representative Haugen colted the caucus and announced that he would be egainst the speaker and

Be Received Tomorrow.

Washington, March 14.—Both houses of congress will meet in extraordinary season at moon tomorrow, with Vice President Sherman presiding in the senate, and the clerk, McDowell, officiality in the house. This will be the beginning of the Sixty-first congress, and the first act of importance in the house will be the organization of that body for business. The senate is already organize, so that aside from the mere routine, the business of the first day will be confined to the presentation of the credentials of Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin.

Mr. Taft left the White House with Mrs. Nicholas L. Anderson of this city, who accompanied him to church. Together they walked the four blocks to the church, and several times the president in the advancement of its interests. His loss will be deep by felt, and the affliction to the home circle at this time is the more keen, as it follows the death of a son, James H., four mouths ago.

Some Doubt Regarding House Rules. The action of the republican caucus makes certain the re-election of Speak-er Cannon and of the other house officers, but there is still doubt in the minds of some just what may be done with reference to the rules, and it is this that causes interest. If the "in-surgents" and their democratic allies win, the programme for the introduc-tion and the committee consideration of the tariff bill may be very different from what it would be if the "standpat-ters" should prevail.

President's Tariff Message Tuesday. If Speaker Cannon's friends are victorious in the matter of the rules, the president's message on the tariff will be received Tuesday, and immediately after its reading the republican members of the committee on ways and means will introduce their bill for the revision of the tariff schedules. The revision of the fariff schedules. The speaker will then appoint a committee on ways and means, and the bill will be referred to that committee. It is understood that if the selection the committee is left to the speaker will designate all the old members of the committee who were re-elected of the committee who were re-elected to congress. This would leave but one vacancy, that caused by the retirement of Mr. Bonynge of Colorado, and it is hinted that Representative Mondell of Wyoming will be chosen for that position. The demogratic members of the committee would be appointed at the same time, and the purpose is to have the committee report the bill back. have the committee report the bill back to the house after one or two sittings.

ITS FIRST MONTH OF LIFE

ot Marred by Any Untoward Inci Uprising-New Congress Slow

Havana, March 9.—While the first nonth in the life of the restored Cuban epublic has not been one of achieve-nent, it has at least not been marred by any untoward incident calculated by any untoward incident calculated to confirm the oft-repeated prediction that the experiment of Cuban self-government was destined to speedy failure. On the other hand the government of General Gomez has still to present assurances of its ability to direct wisely and firmly the destinies of the island.

All Parties Pulling Together. The one fact which seems to be established is that Cubans of all parties are, for the time being, determined to forget their political differences and pull together, so as to avoid as long as possible what all dread—further American intervention.

No Evidence of Dissatisfaction. At the close of the provisional government one of the most prominent American officials expressed the fear that the Gomez administration would collapse within three months, but added that if it survived that time, it would probably endure indefinitely. For the fear there now appears no warrant for, apart from the mutterings of displaced office holders, there is not the slightest evidence of dissatisfaction with the new government.

But One Faint Rumor of Trouble. Only once has there been even the faintest rumor of an uprising, when three discharged officials, in Santiage De Cuba were reported to have taker to the woods about three weeks ago This was not only untrue but, as a matter of fact, all three, prior to receiving a demand for their resignations, had written to General Gomez to assure him of their loyalty.

Congress Has Accomplished Little. Congress Has Accomplished Little.

So far, the new congress has done little and this is one of the most discouraging features of the situation, suggesting as it does, repetition of that inability to agree in legislative matters which produced the deadlock in the last Cuban congress, compelled President Palma to legislate by decree in violation of the constitution, and finally precipitated the uprisings in August, 1906, under Pino Guerra followed by the intervention of the United States and the appointment of Mr. Taft as provisional governor.

Gomez Able to Keep the Peace.

Gomez Able to Keep the Peace. But should General Gomez find him self forced into the unhappy position of his predecessor, it is most probable that he would not shrink from deal-ing with the malcontents with all the severity that the occasion demanded and with the little army now in process of organization at his back he would doubtless be able to nip any in-surrectionary movement in the bud.
